Overview

The Quran is the ultimate source of guidance for mankind, preserved in its original language. Even though it presents the same message that was revealed to the previous messengers, its style of delivering the message is unique. Most scholars of the Quran and Arabic language agree that Quran is a wonderful book with its own unique genre and style that we cannot compare with any other book in the world. Understanding the genre and style of this book is necessary for someone who wants to appreciate the message and get guidance from it. Because of the lack of this understanding, many people fail to appreciate the Quran. They see the Quran as a book with disjointed statements, a book that switches its addressees many times in a single verse and often repeats its statements over and over again.

This course covers various subject matter related to the Quran, including its style, topics, arrangement, consistency, collection, and transmission, which the young students of the Quran must be aware of when approaching it for understanding. Building on that foundation, this course will also explore various sections of the Quran relevant to faith and different aspects of our lives and explain those passages in style appropriate for teenagers.

Objectives:

At the end of this course, the students will be able to:

- Start appreciating the topic, style, genre, theme, and arrangement of the Quran when reading it on their own
- Appreciate why Quran is a unique book and how it should be approached when understanding it
- Understand how Quran was transmitted from the time it was revealed through the generations before it reached us
- Apply the knowledge gained about the sciences of the Quran to the selected passages of the Quran

Delivery Method:

This course will be taught through various methods suitable for this age group. This includes weekly lectures, presentations, and small projects/homework, and group discussions on various topics. Students will be encouraged to bring their questions to the class for clarification and discussion.

Course Outline:

The following list is comprised of suggested topics for the course. The topics may be slightly adjusted based on the need of the class. Additional reading material (if needed) for each session will be available for download from Google Classroom a week before the session.

Note: The instructor will create a weekly lesson plan or outline based on these topics, incorporating practical aspects of the course and exercises into the weekly lessons.
